Art Unit: 1653

Claims 1-36 are currently pending and are under examination.

Benefit of priority is granted to January 16, 2002.

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

The abstract submitted is the front page of the WO resulting from the parent PCT.

Applicants must submit a new abstract on a separate sheet of paper.

Appropriate correction is required.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The Claims do not have a reference sequence identification number and therefore the placement of the mutations within the nucleic acid or amino acid molecule are indefinite and cannot be searched.

The lack of sequence identification numbers were noted in the prosecution of the parent PCT in PCT 203, submitted in this application on July 14, 2004. The Examiner did not find in the specification that the sequence was incorporated by reference, and the mutated and wild-type human p53 are simply termed 'human p53' throughout the specification. Applicants should be careful not to add new matter to the specification when providing a sequence for human p53.

No Claims are allowed.
